U. S. Attorney General Warns On 'Red' Battle

Says Existing Laws Need Strengthening—Against Outlawing Communists

EIGHT-POINT PLAN GIVEN TO CONGRESS (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Attorney General Clark warned Congress today that the American Communist program "is a cause for concern" and outlined an eight-point program for combating Communism and other subversive elements.

He stressed that congressional action to strengthen existing laws should be one of the first steps in the nation's fight against communists.

Against Outlawing Move
Clark told the House un-American activities committee, however, that he opposed legislation to outlaw the Communist Party in the United States because such action would drive the party underground.

The attorney general's stand on a proposed bill to outlaw the Communist Party was identical to that of FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, who testified before the committee last year on the measure.

Clark said: "I agree with Director Hoover that from a security standpoint it would be best not to outlaw the party by statute. Let me say here that we should not run the risk of turning radicals into martyrs."

"It should be our effort at all times to expose to the light of public examination the activities of such individuals rather than by means of restrictive legislation to afford them an opportunity to operate underground."

Eight-Point Program

Clark outlined an eight-point program for fighting U. S. communists. His program called for: (1) Continued surveillance of all subversive activities; (2) Prompt prosecution of all offenders against federal law; (3) Deportation of all aliens adhering to subversive principles; (4) Education of the public; (5) Public listing of subversive organizations; (6) Elimination of subversive persons from government positions; (7) Efforts by labor unions to eliminate subversive persons from their membership; and (8) a "lightening" of certain laws, including the espionage act.

Clark said that he believed the

Pa Newc Observes

A year ago today the coldest day of last winter was experienced when the official low mark was registered as zero.

January's temperatures this year were just 14 degrees colder per day than they were in January of 1947, statistics reveal. Local folks were doubly aware of the fact, the way the coal pile went down last month.

A load of evergreens being transported through the city Wednesday afternoon from an Ohio city attracted quite a bit of attention. The shrubbery against the white background of snow presented a pretty scene.

City workmen were busily engaged this morning clearing the city hall roof of dangerous snow and ice. Several policemen were stationed on the street detouring pedestrians during the progress of the work.

An odd sight noted on North Mercer street Wednesday afternoon, was an automobile well covered with snow and peeping through the snow on the back of the car was a license plate marked "California."

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:
Maximum temperature, 33.
Minimum temperature, 8.
Precipitation, traces snow.
River stage, 4.3 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 20.
Minimum temperature, 0.
Precipitation, .04 inches, snow.

Before Rescue From Ice Floe

Standing on the shore, a New York City high school student waves to three of his schoolmates adrift on an ice floe in the middle of the Hudson river. The boys—Andrew Wray, Anthony Vida and Fielding Warren—ventured out on the ice near the shoreline and it broke away. The tide carried them upstream until a fireboat rescued them.

Propose Two Efforts To Bring Food Prices Down

By CHARLES B. SEIB (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Two efforts to bring down high food prices emerged today when the government moved to set up a new food-saving drive and Sen. Flanders (R) Vt., urged a voluntary meat rationing program.

Agricultural Secretary Anderson is scheduled to meet this afternoon with 18 leaders of the food industry and consumer groups to map plans for the new conservation campaign.

The new drive is to have the inflationary price spiral as its main

Recall Turkish Ambassador To Soviet Russia

ANKARA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The uneasy diplomatic ties between Turkey and Russia were strained today to a new point of rupture by the recall to Ankara of Turkey's ambassador to Moscow.

Russia has not been represented in the Turkish capital by an ambassador for almost two years. Ambassador Vinogradov was pulled back to Moscow in the fall of 1945 when first signs of tension between the two countries developed.

The Turks announced late yesterday that Turkish Ambassador Akdur has been called back from Moscow.

Immediate Speculation

(There was immediate speculation in world capitals about the significance of Ambassador Akdur's recall at this time.)

Russo-Turkish relations deteriorated steadily since the middle of 1945 when the Soviet initiated unsuccessful moves to gain joint control of the strategic Dardanelles with Turkey.

The Russians sought not only joint administration of the strategic strait but also military bases in the area.

Russian maneuvers to gain bases at the eastern end of the Mediterranean started with Soviet cancellation, of the 1925 treaty of friendship with Turkey.

Sen. Ball Warns Of Attack Upon Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Sen. Ball (R) Minn. bluntly warned today that the Marshall Plan will be challenged in the Senate on the suspicion that it is "primarily a new British loan dressed up in fancy trimmings."

Ball, leader of a Senate group out to revise the Marshall Plan, took another whack at the aid program as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called its final witnesses to end almost a month's public hearing.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, former Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York, and Benjamin A. Javits, New York attorney, were scheduled to testify.

Ball gave the first indication that Britain's share of the European recovery program would be specially singled out for attack when the legislation reaches the Senate floor about Feb. 18.

See Rebuke To Soviet Russia

ANKARA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The forthcoming return to Ankara of Turkey's ambassador in Moscow was regarded in official circles today as a diplomatic rebuke to Soviet Russia for its failure to assign a new ambassador with full powers to this country.

Russia has been represented by ambassador plenipotentiary in the Turkish capital for 17 months.

The Turkish government permitted this condition to continue for almost two years after Soviet Russia Ambassador Serge Vinogradov was recalled to Moscow.

There was no official indication as to when Vinogradov would return to Ankara or whether he would be re-assigned at all.

Joint Program Launched By Two Nations In Meeting Protests Of Russia

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The United States and Britain are pursuing today a joint program of meeting the recent outbursts of Russian protests against the western powers with some shots of their own.

If only for the sake of the record, the two nations have launched a campaign to put the record straight on Soviet-inspired Communist groups d'etat in the present satellite states.

The first U. S. note reflecting the Anglo-American counteroffensive was published yesterday.

Russia And Romania Sign New 20 Year Military Aid Pact

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Soviet newspapers today hailed the new Russo-Romanian 20-year military aid pact as a block against aggression from Germany or any other state which would unite with Germany, directly or in any other form.

Photographs showing Premier Stalin looking on as the signing took place were given front-page prominence, as were speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and Romanian Premier Petru Groza.

Man Is Found Dead In Auto

Lifeless Body Of Andrew E. McKinney Discovered In Auto In Shenango Township

HAD BEEN MISSING FROM HOME FOR DAY

Slumped at the steering wheel of his sedan on an unused drive off the Savannah road in Shenango township, a quarter of a mile south of East New Castle, the lifeless body of Andrew E. McKinney, aged 47 years, of Castlewood, was found by Harlan Mone, who resided nearby, at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mr. McKinney had been missing from his home since Tuesday morning. A 22 calibre rifle was found at his side and there was a bullet hole through his head. He had evidently been dead for around 30 hours, Coroner Charles E. Allen stated.

Find Man Dead

Mone had been out with his dog, and noticed the car standing in the drive, near an abandoned sand bank. Snow from the previous day covered the tracks made by the car when it was driven into the drive. When he investigated, he found Mr. McKinney dead at the wheel.

Mone immediately notified Sheriff Frank L. Coen, who in turn called the coroner and state police.

Mr. McKinney had been reported to state police as missing since Tuesday morning by his wife, on Wednesday morning.

Mr. McKinney had been in ill health for six months, his wife stated, and he had brooded over the fact.

He had resided at 1804 East Washington street here before moving to Castlewood a little more than a year ago. He was employed at the National Tube plant in Ellwood City.

Born July 29, 1900, in Shenango township, he was a son of Margaret Bott McKinney and the late

Extensive Hunt Under Way In Germany For Fugitive Fritz Kuhn

FRANKFURT, Feb. 5.—(INS)—An extensive search was under way today across a wide expanse of Germany for former German-American Bund chief, Fritz Kuhn, who escaped Tuesday from a Dachau internment camp.

Sought along with the rotund and arrogant Kuhn, who was deported from the United States as an undesirable, is a mysterious German fraufräulein.

The unidentified German girl is known to have visited Kuhn last week at the internment camp, where he was confined to await trial before a German denazification tribunal.

Hunt Under Way

It was believed that the fraufräulein might be able to provide authorities with information about the means which Kuhn employed to outfit his guards and escape unnoticed.

United States constabulary forces immediately began searching the countryside around Dachau.

Repulse Arab Advance From Syria Frontier

JERUSALEM, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A strict curfew was clamped down on the Tiberius area of northern Palestine by British military authorities today after strong units of parachute troops and Irish guardsmen repulsed a new attempt by Arabs to invade the Holy Land from Syria.

The British troops and Irish forces fought a three-hour battle against the invaders who were forced to withdraw back across the frontier last night.

Conflicting accounts of the fighting said that 12 Arabs were killed, several others wounded and six captured. The radio transmitter of Naganah, defense army of the Jewish agency, said that only two Arabs were killed and 10 wounded.

The battle took place close to the northern Jewish settlement of Mishmar Hayarden, climaxing a day of violence in which some eight other persons met death.

Start Hearings On Conservation Of Grain In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The administration warned congress today that failure by whiskey manufacturers to curb grain consumption will jeopardize the whole food conservation program and may cause it to fall far short of the goal.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan told the joint committee on the economic report that the government "cannot hope to control inflation in food if we permit our grain to be diverted to non-essential uses."

The committee, headed by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, opened hearings today on President Truman's request for authority to regulate the production of ethyl alcohol for beverages purposes through October 31.

Parries Queries On Candidacy For Re-Election

Questioned About Reported Travel Itinerary And "Back Balcony" Campaign

PARTY'S CHOICE IS NOT TELLING YET (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.

(INS)—President Truman who is the Democratic party's choice for the presidency, still declined today to admit, in so many words, that he will accept the nomination at the July Democratic convention.

Such being the presidential custom in the months before the convention in campaign years, Mr. Truman continued his jocular verbal sparring with reporters at his weekly news conference.

The shadow-boxing began with a question about a presidential travel itinerary and a "back balcony" campaign. A reporter said that a lot had been written about a presidential swing over the country since Sen. Howard McGrath, the Democratic national chairman, visited the White House earlier this week.

Denies Reports

A reporter said that both reports were without foundation. He said there isn't any itinerary and he doesn't know anything about a back balcony campaign.

Mr. Truman said that he had been talking with McGrath about a tremendous number of invitations that a president always receives for appearances and speeches all over the country.

He added: "I've got more than I can possibly get done behind this desk without traveling all over the country."

Another reporter said that what he was trying to get was an answer as to whether the president would run.

Can't Answer "Jackpot"

Mr. Truman laughingly replied that he couldn't answer the jackpot question this morning.

The chief executive also was asked whether he intended to revive the "inspection trips" which

Wind Up Army Maneuvers In Sub-Zero Area

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Feb. 5.—(INS)—A simulated attack and an effort to establish roadblocks under sub-zero conditions will wind up the army's mid-winter maneuvers at Pine Camp, near the Canadian border, today.

The extensive operations—known as "exercise snowdrop"—are officially tomorrow, when officers and men will participate in a critique of the entire cold-weather "campaign."

Although high army officials have admitted that American troops would have been "battered up quite a bit" if the make-believe battles had been the real thing, everyone connected with the maneuvers is convinced that much valuable information has been learned.

Reports on "exercise snowdrop" will be carefully studied in Washington as the basis for the text books on Arctic warfare.

The tricky business of parachuting supplies to snow-troops was pointed up yesterday, when nine tons of food, gasoline and equipment were dropped to the 500 men of the 505th airborne battalion who are serving as "guinea pigs."

Following the ceremony there was a reception for 40 guests in the home of the bride's sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Spiker, of 713 Cleveland avenue, with whom she has made her home. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and candles in triple holders at either side.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigham left by car on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and will go on to Akron where they will take up residence in their newly furnished home at 592 Morgan street.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

The sons of Ireland were on their cheerful way to the ballot-boxes Wednesday—a plain folks' pageant of flags and banners and drums and raucous campaign songs.

And they were proud of this sudden excursion into world importance. For the voters of Eire had a momentous problem to decide.

Should they cut old Eire adrift completely from the British crown and the mother of parliaments? Or preserve in office the almost legendary Eamon De Valera, whose nationalism always has been tempered by a hesitancy to let all the old ties go?

It is De Valera, the mellow statesman who has outgrown his passionate, flaring battle for complete liberty, against Sean MacBride, younger, more volative, the son of an executed Irish rebel who calls his party "Children of the Republic."

The British themselves, of course, are keenly interested in outcome of the elections.

Peculiar Aspect

There is a rather peculiar aspect involved here. For while MacBride stands for complete severance of bonds with England, many Britons would not be too sorry to see De Valera lose on the grounds that "new deal" in Eire conceivably might lead eventually to closer ties between England and Eire.

De Valera's stern neutrality during the second world war ranked many Britishers.

While England was suffering most severely during the "blitz" attacks, Eire was living in comparative comfort, with plenty of food on hand and no physical danger.

It was recognized constantly that if De Valera had been able to take the whole of Ireland out of the Commonwealth of Nations instead of only the southern part, the wartime position of the United States and Britain might have been desperate indeed.

Northern Ireland constituted a military base of enormous importance.

Might Break Stalemate

Britons attempting to regard the situation without prejudice have the feeling that a De Valera defeat conceivably might break the present stalemate on the Emerald Isle and make possible a union in the future.

The De Valera regime has been known for the rigidity of its policies.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

It is wonderful when the family enjoys one another at mealtime.

In depots, in trains and buses and in public eating places, I have often enjoyed observing many instances of delightful parent-child relationships. Now and then, however, my heart has been saddened with the opposite.

While in an eating place some while ago, I sat where I could not keep from seeing and hearing a father, mother and their son (about seven, as they ate dinner. The lad was talking almost constantly, talking and eating leisurely. What he said was interesting to me and I wondered why it was not enjoyable to his parents. For most of their mealtime the parents said almost nothing until, finally, the lad asked a very sensible question.

Neither parent answered his question, but the mother said in a kind of bullying way, "Anything to take up time and not eat," to which the father added a "dirty dig" at the boy.

Hardened to Nagging
It seemed to me that the parents were ganged up against the lad, though he seemed to be somewhat hardened to their nagging. I recalled that on other happy families I had observed in public places and then, much to my surprise, the useful happiness this family were missing.

Usually such problems grow over months and years because the parents' attention is so much centered on the child's eating or his dawdling over food and they are so conversed at him that they can't enjoy conversation either with him or with each other and the mealtime is an unhappy, even maddening period for all the family. My bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Very Annoyed

A widow, the mother of a girl six and a boy four writes: "One thing that annoys me very much is that at the table the children laugh and giggle and talk to each other instead of eating. Of course, they eat eventually but not until their food has gotten cold."

As I wrote the mother, this is nothing to be annoyed about. When you are sure their table fun is far too exciting for them just quietly send one of them to another room to finish the meal, not as punishment but as a means of quieting them down a bit. Be sure you alter them from time to time in choosing the one to send, so you will prove fair to both of them.

I hope you find a way to enjoy their talk and share the fun and conversation with them. Then a quiet suggestion from you occasionally might suffice to cause them to go on with their food. Nevertheless, since they eat the food anyway, eventually, why bother about whether it is cold or not? Cold food with warm fellowship can be more useful, even for good nutrition, than warm food without cold fellowship.

Bible Thought

Behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand.—Jer. 34:4.

Another advantage of sending things to the laundry is that neighbors can't look out and see how many times you changed shirts in a week.

Scientists say man will live to be 100 and the last 25 years will be the best. Now is the time to start a rocking chair factory.

One of the witnesses whose optimistic testimony has now become public is Gunnar Myrdal, executive secretary of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe, and the other is Sir John Boyd, director-general of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization.

Both of these men have discovered in the course of their own investigations that European shortages are smaller than was expected a few months ago and that several countries of Europe, perhaps most, are as well off in the matter of goods available for consumption as they were before the war. The picture still has its dark spots, and there is still suffering at the lower levels of population, but Europe is definitely on the way up from the depths, it is asserted.

Why hasn't there been news of this from European government sources? The answer is that the political leaders of the continental nations are afraid that the United States, in the light of the news, might decide that the Marshall Plan is no longer a necessary instrument of recovery. Europe, they contend, remains in need of outside help and they do not want to lose their chances of getting it.

In taking this attitude they are making a mistake. Nothing would please the American people more than to learn that Europe is getting on its feet. Nothing would make European relief more popular in the United States than the knowledge that the nations of Europe, by hard work, were helping to effect their own recovery. In a matter of this kind the truth is never a handicap.

PART OF SOVIET WORD WAR
Soviet Russia's current outbreak of pin-jabbing diplomatic protests is as childish as it is ludicrous. Molotov's foreign office experts have certainly scraped around hard for something to kick about. They've come up with four protests.

These are against the presence of American warships in Italian waters as violating the recent Italian peace treaty; restoration of an American-built airfield at Mellaha in Libya, former Italian colony; alleged activities of American military personnel in Iran, accused of helping the Iranians to fortify their frontiers; and charges American fliers inspect Russian vessels in the Japan Sea.

The State Department has flatly rejected the Moscow complaint about our warships' visits to Italy. All such visits have been made with Italian Government permission. The Mellaha matter is under study. The Department flatly declares that the Iranian charges are pure fabrications in some particulars, obvious distortion of facts in others.

As to the Japan Sea protest it's possible American pilots may have buzzed around some Soviet freighters or small passenger ships to look them over. At least one instance is well recalled. That was the time an American plane spotted a disabled Russian vessel and notified Russian authorities.

These complaints are picayunish. But their pattern suggests we would do well to note them as a probable buildup toward new barrages of denunciation of the United States as a swashbuckling imperialist.

Our Government, while fully justified in rejecting such mountain-out-of-molehill protests, would be wise in restraining Americans from any avoidable untoward activities that might be seized upon to intensify the Russian war of words.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Just a few more lines about those advertisements in the San Francisco newspapers.

Everybody in every part of the country seems to be complaining about the housing shortage.

But is there a housing shortage in San Francisco?

True enough, there don't seem to be any cheap apartments available.

Homes for every pocketbook and every size family.

A few hundred dollars down and a few dollars a month, and, according to the ads, heaven can be yours right here on earth in San Francisco and near by.

I haven't seen any of the places, of course, but I would really like to go around and discover who are the greatest romancers of them all—the fiction writers and poets or the real estate agents or "realtors", as they are called more euphonically.

The Garden of Eden was never described so attractively as those homes for sale here.

Swimming pools and goldfish ponds. Patios and flowers, magnificent vistas, bathrooms, garages and what have you—all the way from $3000 to $100,000.

Wonderful, wonderful—too bad one can't sleep and live in the classified section of one's newspaper!

In all my years I have never seen such a variety of schools and studios and academies advertised as right here in San Francisco.

Here is an "Academy of Charm and Fashion Modeling."

"Be a Mademoiselle Model!" it says.

This is what it teaches you: Voice and Diction. Makeup. Hair-styling. Wardrobe. Figure Contouring. Modeling Technique.

All you do is send for Booklet E, put down your money and you'll be a glamour girl with assured success in a few easy lessons.

It's the key to Success," says the ad, but it doesn't say whether it's the key for the school or for you.

Yes, indeed, San Francisco is a magic city.

It's a city in which life must be at its easiest and its best and its most promising.

That is, until you get down into Howard Street and the Mission district.

Then you begin to see that life is life everywhere—that all isn't gold that glitters—and that, maybe, it's just as good for you to stay home and just keep on dreaming of Utopia.

Down in Howard Street there are the flophouses and the cheap saloons and the pawnshops and it's the derelicts and the flotsam and jetsam of the city.

After all, you must remember that this is the very Western end of the United States.

One more step and you are in the Pacific Ocean.

It's too many, too very many, the West Coast has become the last stopping-off place, the last refuge, the last hope and the last disappointment.

"That's all there is, there isn't anymore," Ethel Barrymore used to say in the famous playlet, "The Twelve Pound Look"—and here on Howard Street it has come true for thousands and thousands—it's all there is, there isn't anymore.

A few more days and back we go to the ice age of Connecticut.

How I love it out here in San Francisco, this city of a thousand facts—but how glad I'll be to get back to my snow shovel and my home.

From Me To You
By MESEALL

In order to keep up with the times . . . it is sometimes necessary to scrap old ideas and adopt new ones . . . and that is exactly where we are here in the city of New Castle. Some twenty years ago our community was studied by experts . . . a set of rules were adopted, called the Zoning Law. Times have changed since then and some of the rules and regulations that were enacted at that time are no longer the proper way of doing business . . . If we here in New Castle wish to make things bigger and better.

The Heavy Industrial Zone . . . is it still adequate for our industries . . . remember twenty years ago New Castle was a one industry town . . . today we are definitely not in that class . . . Light industry . . . we have many such concerns . . . space for expansion is fast becoming limited . . . Years ago it was thought that a slaughter house within the city limits of a town was not right . . . very undesirable they said . . . Today right in the heart of some of our better cities they have slaughter houses and no one knows the difference . . . modern scientific methods of doing this job have made it possible to move such industry to a spot that can be easily accessible to transportation of both product and employees . . . Harrisburg for example has a mammoth packing house within a block of the Capital Building.

People are interested in the zoning laws . . . some have written letters . . . and some of those letters say that zoning is a farce . . . for example read this letter:

Dear Mesecall:
I happened to see your article on the zoning situation. Why bring that up as we are supposed to have zoning now and the Mayor and Council will not enforce it. I reported a violation to them and nothing has been done.

Yours,
F. G.

Washington Calling
(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Now that the Republicans in the House have had their fun with an old-fashioned boom-and-bust tax-cut bill, the Senate will get down to the serious business of drafting a measure that can be passed over the president's veto.

The Senate more cautious Republicans are discussing a cut of 2½ or 3 billions. This is a frank recognition that most of the big talk about slashing the Truman budget is just political talk in a political year.

Pass Over Veto
There seems little doubt but that a measure will be framed which can be passed over the president's veto. One thing it will contain for certain is the community-property provision enabling husbands and wives to divide one income and thereby pay at a lower tax rate. Since 12 states now have laws permitting such a division of income, it is only fair that the same provision should apply to all married taxpayers.

The final bill will also contain increased exemptions for individual taxpayers and some relief for corporations. In short, it will be a political compromise aimed at appeasing the largest number of voters while doing the minimum of damage insofar as national and international responsibilities are concerned.

This is the intention, at any rate, of those Republicans who are acutely aware of the spectacle in the house. Such blithe spirits as Knutson may feel that 6½ billions is a good vote-catcher. But even this is doubtful.

Other day, Speaker Joe Martin made a speech that didn't sound like the shrewd, able politician from Massachusetts. He solemnly warned of a plot to sabotage congress and undermine the faith of the people in representative government.

Failed To Realize
Obviously Speaker Martin failed to realize how close to home he was hitting. The real saboteurs are the irresponsibles in congress. Faith is destroyed by those who indulge in nose-thumbing political gestures, willing to take a chance that someone will save them from the consequences of their irresponsibility.

Knutson is an interesting example. Giving his home as a summer resort in Minnesota and vacationing each year in Florida he may just possibly be a little out of touch with the problems of ordinary citizens in this period of inflation.

From a reader comes a comment on President Truman's proposal to increase the personal exemption of each individual by $40. This has been laughed as cheap bait of the Knutson variety. But the following grass-roots point of view is different:

Senate To Draft Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Now that the Republicans in the House have had their fun with an old-fashioned boom-and-bust tax-cut bill, the Senate will get down to the serious business of drafting a measure that can be passed over the president's veto.

Obviously Speaker Martin failed to realize how close to home he was hitting. The real saboteurs are the irresponsibles in congress. Faith is destroyed by those who indulge in nose-thumbing political gestures, willing to take a chance that someone will save them from the consequences of their irresponsibility.

Knutson is an interesting example. Giving his home as a summer resort in Minnesota and vacationing each year in Florida he may just possibly be a little out of touch with the problems of ordinary citizens in this period of inflation.

From a reader comes a comment on President Truman's proposal to increase the personal exemption of each individual by $40. This has been laughed as cheap bait of the Knutson variety. But the following grass-roots point of view is different:

"I would like to take exception to your expressed viewpoint that a tax cut would be inflationary. At least in my own case I do not see how it could contribute to inflation.

"If the tax cut were confined to those suffering from malnutrition because they can't buy enough foodstuffs to allow them a proper diet, in a case of this nature how could it contribute to inflation? In our case we get enough to eat, even though it has reached the point where we are having to draw on our small savings that we were able to make during the war years. This savings was made possible by long hours but not at the prevailing high wartime wages.

"I made 30 cents per hour during part of the war and 94 cents per hour the latter part of the war. I get $1.12 now which, for 45 hours and 20 minutes per week, gives me a net take-home amount of $51.96 to support myself, wife and two children.

"If we were given the benefit of Mr. Truman's plan of $40 per person off, I don't see how we could buy any more and thus add to the scarcity problem. But his relief plan would, I believe, make it possible for us to get by on what I am earning and thus stop the drain on our savings, which we desire to hold as a buffer against emergencies, medical expenses, hospital bills, etc."

Chairman Knutson, now on his Florida vacation, might be surprised at how many families these days are having to dip into their savings. It is a fairly common experience of those who are trying to maintain something like the standards of the past. But whether the Knutson across-the-board tax cut would give them any real relief is quite another matter. It would inject another six and a half billions into the already swollen money stream.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

The birds who fly south for the winter found it there this year.

One returning robin reports it was so cold that he flew 300 miles beyond the last Republican before he realized he was in Dixie.

He says it's easy to spot a Republican from the air in an election year . . . he's the one that's running.

Mr. Truman has made it tougher for the Republicans since it came out that he wrote two telegrams months ago and forgot to send them.

That will bring him the vote of every man who ever was given a letter to mail to his wife's mother and forgot to mail it.

And it won't hurt him either to authorize the navy to give us fuel oil which he did . . . particularly if the sailors go along on deliveries to girls' boarding schools.

Jobs Upon A Time

From a job in the circulation department of a San Fernando, Cal., newspaper, Alan Ladd rose to his present position as one of the screen's handsome actors. Valli, whose father was an instructor in philosophy at the University of Milan, Italy, probably would have studied to follow in her dad's steps, if she hadn't embarked on a successful acting career.

State Police Say:—

Perhaps you see the accident picture in terms of smashed fenders and broken headlights, but the police see it in a much more tragic light—in terms of broken and mutilated human bodies.

One of the things that has contributed to the tragic death toll is a lack of proper attitude toward other drivers and pedestrians, and the attitude that it can't happen to me. If you are one of those drivers who feel that an accident just couldn't happen to you, you are entertaining a very dangerous illusion.

Offers Field For Speculation

By PAUL GALLICO

If you will permit a comment from an ex-sports writer, everything is just ducky with the Olympic Games. At this writing, the Swiss, the Olympic Committee and Avery Brundage, American Olympic boss, are, or were snarled up in a three-way tie for the pre-Olympic stubbornness championship over who should represent the United States in ice hockey; the British Amateur Athletic Board, to quote the A. P. story from London, the British Amateur Athletic Board, to quote the Olympic Committee of Eire, over which country will get the services of the North of Ireland athletes; and those dear Lebanese have protested the winter sports teams of Palestine, causing their withdrawal from the games at St. Moritz on the grounds that Palestine was not yet a nation.

Why U. N. Can't Get Anything Done

And then you wonder why the United Nations cannot get anything done. Nations have not even learned to play together yet without getting into brawls. Do you suppose the human race has ever looked sillier than it does right at this moment?

The British Amateur Athletic Board's declaration of war on Ireland's Olympic Committee offers a field for fascinating speculation. Obviously, Eire must be invaded and reduced, an amphibious operation known as Operation A. A. U., and the secret plans of the British Board happen to have fallen into my hands.

On "O" day, supported by the Navy of eight-oared shells, from Oxford and Cambridge, four-oared gigs, pairs and single sculls, an invincible armada sailing out of Henley-on-Thames, the British will attempt a landing on the east coast of Eire. Olympian Bri Chualann and Dun Laoghaire, for a march on Baile Atha Cliath, formerly known as Dublin.

Expect To Gain Beachhead

Under cover of a heavy barrage supplies by the hammer-throwers and putters of the 16-pound shot, the British expect to gain a beachhead and sufficient hold to launch an attack by the discus-hurlers and the javelin-throwers to clear the path for fast-moving units of hurdlers, steeplechase runners and high jumpers. Flanked by squads of epee, foils and sabre men, the main body of wrestlers and boxers will then move upon Dublin to engage the rebel Irish Olympic Committee at close quarters and convince them of the justice of the British cause.

Modern technical advance in warfare will not be neglected by the British Olympic Expeditionary Force. Olympic gliders will soar through the air overhead and drop copies of speeches by Avery Brundage, which we will supply to our old ally in a renewal of lend-lease, and which are calculated to have a stupefying effect upon the enemy.

Germ Warfare Not Neglected

Nor will the new germ warfare be neglected. Members of the British Swimming and Water Polo teams are to be trained as special sabotage squads to land on Irish shores under cover of darkness and empty vials containing cultures of Athletes Foot at strategic spots where the Eire athletes are likely to step into them.

Once Dublin is reduced, the force will move South through Kilkenny to Cork and thence five miles north to Castle Blarney where peace will be signed at the foot of the Blarney Stone, at which point it will be discovered that the Athletes in the North of Ireland are mostly hurley players and caber tossers, neither of which events appear on the Olympic program, so that all the needless slaughter might have been avoided.

But then that is what people find out about most wars when it is too late and they are all over, and why should this one be any different. It ought only to be funnier.

Paris Styles To Be Revealed Soon

Betting 8 To 2 That 'New Look's' Long Dresses Will Remain Last Word In Style

By JACQUELINE DE MAUDUIT

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The betting is 8 to 2 that the "New Look's" long dresses will remain the last word in style, as all Paris hums with preparations for the openings of the spring fashion collections early this month.

This year both men and women seem more interested in fashions—probably because of the well-publicized "New Look," which has rendered obsolete thousands of feminine wardrobes and many a masculine bank balance.

Shrouded In Mystery
The fashion houses are shrouded in mystery so that the big secret of "the latest thing" may be kept hidden until the moment of formal unveiling.

Mannequins wrapped in old bathrobes and dressing gowns skitter across the floors of the empty salons on their way to the fitting rooms. Salesgirls stand around boredly with nothing to do while the boss works frantically at putting the finishing touches on the collection.

The best hotels are filling up with buyers and fashion correspondents from all over the world. I went to see Christian Dior, creator of the "New Look," and asked him if he thought his revolutionary designs again would dominate the coming year's fashion trends. But he refused to be smoked out.

Dior said he decided to reshuffle his whole collection 10 days ago, when it was nearly finished. He had experimentally slipped in a few of his next winter's models and he liked them so much that he decided to rebuild his collection around them.

New Gamut Of Colors
It is understood that Dior will use a whole new Gamut of colors. He will also make his own hats.

Prints will again be fashionable this spring and with new colors. Navy and white, always trimly classical, and discreet black-and-white will be accompanied by China blue or Periwinkle blue, gray pinks, pale greens, tomato reds and violent browns inspired by the vivid hues of the Riviera rocks.

Spotted twills will also be worn again. Music notes, palm trees, pen drawings, and large flowers like gladioli and lilac branches will embellish evening gowns for summer wear.

PLAN MEMORIAL

MELROSE, Mass.—The Upham House, built in 1703, is being rebuilt here as a memorial to James Bailey Upham, author of "The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States."

The home was built originally by Phineas Upham, one of the earliest settlers in Melrose. James Bailey Upham was one of his descendants. The Upham Family society is sponsoring the restoration and expects to spend $15,000 before completing the project.

WHY NOT MAKE A HOME-MADE RUG?

The first step in making any homemade rug is to plan colors with great care. The rug maker needs to consider how the colors will blend with her room furnishings. Another rule to remember is that a rug is more interesting when the colors are repeated. If a color is used only once, the rug is likely to look spotty. This does not mean that the exact tones must be repeated—lighter or darker tones from the same family of colors may be used. For example, different shades of blue which harmonize may be used.

To obtain some of the desirable hues, the rug-maker may find it necessary to dye some of the collected scrap materials. If materials are to be dyed, dye enough fabric at one time, for it is almost impossible to secure the same color from different dye baths. Only simple equipment is needed to make braided, crocheted, cross-stitched, hooked, French-knot, oriental-stitch, tufted or shay and ruffia-stitched rugs.

A circular on Rug Making may be secured from the Agricultural Bldg., New Castle, Pa.

Two Ohio Papers Protest Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Federal Communications Commission promised early action today on charges by two Ohio newspaper publishers that the FCC seeks to abridge freedom of the press by denying them permission to operate radio stations.

The charges were made by S. A. and Isadore Horvitz, brothers who publish the Mansfield, Ohio, News-Journal and Lorain, Ohio, News-Journal. The charges were contained in petitions filed late yesterday against FCC decisions of Jan. 14 which:

1. Postponed hearings on the application of the Mansfield News-Journal for an FM station in Mansfield.
2. Proposed to deny applications of the Mansfield newspaper and the Lorain News-Journal for standard stations in Mansfield and Lorain.

The newspapers claimed that the commission sought to exert "illegal influence" over their editorial and business policies.

Receive New Office Machines At State Highway Offices

Alfred Martin, county superintendent of the State Highway Department and a number of his office workers at the highway department were in Franklin on Wednesday, receiving instructions on how to operate the new office machines that are being installed in the local highway office.

One of the machines, which will perform any mathematical function, was brought back to the local office by Mr. Martin and has been put in use already. Others will be installed in a short time. The new equipment will aid greatly in the work of the highway office calculating department.

The department cinder crews continued work on the highways Wednesday and were on the job again today. Road graders were in operation laying back the snow from the edge of the roads, necessitating the application of more cinders. Secondary roads were reported icy in spots and carried some snow yet.

Rigid Conservation Of Gas Still Urged

Some slight increase in natural gas was seen here on Wednesday, a small quantity being made available for schools, bakeries, restaurants and other small commercial institutions, it is announced.

The increase may be temporary, according to T. J. Foley, local manager of Manufacturer's Light and Heat Company. It all depends upon the weather conditions. Gas is not yet available for industrial users and domestic users are urged to continue their rigid conservation.

Maintenance costs for the year were $26,675,901 or 22.6 per cent of the total expenditures. Contributions to local governmental units for maintenance and construction of roads and streets were $8,487,721. Engineering and administration costs amounted to $9,469,899 during the year.

Ohio Supreme Court Will Hear Appeal By Donald Frohner

Hearing Will Determine Whether Court Will Hear Merits Of Case, Execution Stayed

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Ohio Supreme Court today will hear the appeal of Donald E. Frohner, 17-year-old Youngstown youth sentenced to death in the slaying Jan. 13, 1947, of William C. Spieth of Ashtabula.

Frohner was scheduled to die last month but his appeal to the high court automatically stayed execution.

Hitch-Hike Slaying
Assistant prosecuting attorney Harold Hull, who had filed motions to dismiss the appeal on the ground that the question of mercy is not reviewable, said the hearing will determine whether the court will hear the merits of the case. He added that it will not involve merits or an actual decision.

Frohner and a companion Arthur Chapman, 17, had hitched a ride into Youngstown with Spieth when the slaying occurred. Chapman was sentenced to a life term in prison.

State Senator Is Victim Of Holdup

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Police searched today for two nervous gunmen who robbed State Senator Anthony J. Disilvestro of $230 in his South Philadelphia pharmacy.

Entering at closing time, the men ordered cigarettes and then produced the guns, which shook in their hands. First they made Disilvestro turn over $80 from the cash register.

"Come on, get out," the Senator urged. "You've got enough."

Instead the bandits took $150 from Disilvestro's trousers pocket and fled into the snow-covered street.

Suggests That U.S. Issue 7½ Cent Coin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, said today that efforts to devalue the nickel and issue a 7½ cent coin have been "discussed informally" but no decision has been reached.

Mrs. Ross said that if such a step were taken, Congress would have to authorize the 7½ cent piece.

Demand for devaluing the nickel came from Edward Mehrren, soda pop king of Beverly Hills, Calif., in an address to the California manufacturers of carbonated beverages.

Mehrren asserted the nickel is worth only about three cents, compared with 1939.

He called on the government to begin minting the new coins immediately.

Ridiculous Idea
Chairman Wolcott (R) Mich., of the House Banking committee, ridiculed the idea as impractical. Such a step, Congressman Wolcott said, would "devalue the dollar 40 per cent."

He predicted that Congress never would approve the measure and added:

"Why doesn't the soft drink industry go ahead and raise the price outright without fooling around with the value of the nickel?"

Mrs. Ross said for her part she certainly has no intention at the present time of increasing the value of the nickel and added:

"While there have been suggestions there has been no general and widespread demand for that. There has never been cited a clear need for increasing the nickel's value."

She said it was not customary anyway for the mint to make such recommendations.

New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer who has been pushing for a rise in subway fares would not comment, but devaluation of the nickel would increase subway fares by $8,928,711 a year.

The city took in 257,148,854 nickels in 1947.

Farmers are helping increase the demand for gasoline above that in wartime. There are about 2,700,000 tractors now in use on farms which are using approximately 2,821,000,000 gallons of gasoline and tractor and Diesel fuels—an increase of more than a billion gallons over 1941.

Pair Of Robbers Make Five Mistakes

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Two buddies are behind the bars today because they made five mistakes in a robbery that netted them only a half dollar.

First, the two buddies, John Shimkus, 32, and William Waranowski, 35, picked out a street corner only a half block from Waranowski's home for the scene of the robbery.

Second, they picked on a neighbor, Charles Korn, who recognized them.

Third, they used a toy pistol, but it was convincing enough to get Korn's last half dollar.

Fourth, they were arrested only a block from the scene of the crime.

Fifth, they were too drunk to tell police what it was all about.

1948 Turkey Crop Expected To Drop

HARRISBURG—A rather drastic reduction in the number of turkeys to be produced in Pennsylvania during 1948 compared with 1947 was announced today by the State Department of Agriculture.

According to intentions of Pennsylvania turkey growers, indicated through a federal-state survey, they intend to reduce the 1948 turkey crop by 24 per cent of a total of 1,001,000, compared with 1,317,000 birds raised during 1947.

Primary reason given by growers for reducing numbers this year is that feed costs were too high last season in relation to the price per pound they received.

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said that this condition caused many growers to drop out of the business entirely. Still others are undecided, he said, while a few have advised the department that they will start raising turkeys for the first time in 1948.

Picture Depicts Work Of Boy Scouts In Connection
With 38th Anniversary

New Castle Kiwanis Club members were shown an interesting talking film at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, which shows the principles of scouting through following the activities of a troop in a mythical city of the United States.

The picture is an on the scene account of what the Boy Scouts do for the youth of America from the cub scout on up through senior scouting.

The film was procured through the interest of President Thomas

C. Allen, Lawrence County Boy Scout executive, and was shown by Clarence M. England.

It is being presented in the county in connection with the 38th anniversary of scouting, which is being observed this month throughout the world.

A LION-SIZED JOB

What every Mother should know about Bulbsnatching!

You know, of course, that eyestrain can lead to headaches, contribute to poor marks at school. But do you also know that bulbsnatching is an invitation to eyestrain? If Junior squints over his homework, it may be because he had to rob another light socket to get a light to read by—and wound up with an undersized bulb.

Don't take chances. See your nearest dealer today and stock up with plenty of right-size lamp bulbs. Make sure you get enough of the sizes you need—and don't forget to allow for spares. Remember—eyesight is priceless, light is cheap!

Ponder Allen Appointment

State Department Employees Are Rather Worried By Latest Move

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The appointment of George V. Allen, a veteran career diplomat who has worked next door to the Soviet Union in the Middle East, to handle the "Voice of America" program has many State department employees worried.

They have been running the "Voice" their own way and, according to some reports, very satisfactorily. However, they fear that Allen may lop many of them off the payroll to make way for men who have worked in the area around the Iron Curtain and then subjected to Russian radio propaganda.

Actually, Allen was put on the job primarily on the chance he would put up a better argument for more funds for the "Voice" with Congress than his predecessor William Benton.

However, Marshall wanted him also because he felt that a diplomat with a good background could do a more effective job in meeting what has been described as Russian "lying" about American motives in the Marshall Plan and in foreign policy generally.

The Navy is burned up about the presidential air policy commission recommendation that its transport service be merged with the Air Force's Air Transport Command.

One high naval aviator said, "It would be all right if they would let us have an equal say about management. But they won't. Because the Air Force is bigger and has a better 'in' at certain places, we'll be sunk without a trace."

He cited the commission's report in defense of NATS. That document reveals that the Naval Air Transport Service, with one-fourth of the airplanes and one-fourth of the personnel of ATC, flies four-fifths the ton miles covered by ATC.

Woodring May Get Job

The recent departure of former Secretary of War Harry Woodring for an extended tour of Europe has brought rumors that he may take an active part in the administration of the Marshall Plan.

The former Kansas governor said he was making the journey as a "private citizen" just to "have a look around." However, he conceded that he would weigh conditions as he found them against proposals for aid as envisioned in the Marshall Plan.

Additionally, Woodring said he would attempt to visit all European countries from Italy to Sweden, including excursions to Trieste and Vienna, but would make no attempt to penetrate the "iron curtain" or enter Russian satellite countries.

Washington recalled that it was Woodring who appointed Gen. George C. Marshall as army chief of staff over the protests of the late President Roosevelt. In fact, Woodring was so certain that he had the right man for the right job that at one point he threatened to resign his cabinet post unless FDR approved Marshall's promotion.

To Glamorize Dishwashing

The Agriculture department has tackled perhaps its most difficult task. It hopes to convince the daughter of the American household that dishwashing is a privilege, not a tiresome chore.

It has thrown its vast resources at the problem as the result of a 4-H club pool which revealed that 11 girls out of 12 consider scrubbing the family china their most distasteful job.

Agriculture is promoting such slogans as "bend at the knees instead of the back" and "use a tray to save kitchen trips."

Potato Acreage In State Will Raise

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—Commercial potato growers of Pennsylvania have indicated to the State Department of Agriculture they probably will increase their 1948 acreage two per cent above that for 1947.

Pennsylvania growers in 1947 produced 17,985,000 bushels of potatoes from 109,000 acres and by the end of the year had disposed of approximately 7 1/2 million bushels. They saved 62,000 bushels for seed on the farms where grown, compared with 830,000 bushels saved last year from the 1946 crop.

WHY NOT VOTE!

on turning clocks back one hour. The sun will still go on its way as usual, we cannot save daylight, we only use it. It's not rationed yet. "Oh boy," good thing we can't. Oh, the farmers and the golfers just love to get up one hour earlier, nothing so invigorating as that early morning dew and sun. I suppose that is why we are considering voting on the issue. I suggest this, "use daylight saving time for city, Eastern Standard time for county, then turn city and county administrative clock back one hour for our office holders only". That would really mess it up. Pick out the hour you want and vote.

Any hour is a good time to buy food which I am willing to sell at any reasonable offer.

Check over the following and see if you cannot do better at other stores. I am sure you can buy larger bunches and better California carrots than I am offering at two bunches for 15c. Hope you don't like thin skinned, pineapple flavored, tree ripened, Florida oranges, going at 5c a pound or 25c doz., 25 oranges 49c, 12 oranges weight 5 pound. "Some size". Barrels of juice.

Just try buying more California pascal celery than I can give you for 20c. King of celery. Tender, tasteless, crackless and stringless.

Before you buy tomatoes see if mine are worth 20c. They are packed in paper tubes so you can, "no pinch". They weigh 14 to 15 oz.

Lemons are coming in now very sour, plenty thick hide, not too much juice, recommended as a hair rinse and the skin for lemon pie. Sunkist but good size. 10 for 39c. Could be used for lemonade.

I hope you will not find our meat much above average run as we are still buying from small packers, such as Swift, Cudahy and Wilson.

Started handling home dressed hogs, small size, around 150 lbs. dressed. Gladly sell you any part from stem to stern. If you prefer, have plenty ground hog. 100% pure pork at 55c lb. Taste the real flavor of good sausage.

All our meats are cut the tender way. Notice how long you can chew on it.

I will have those good eggs for week end. No, better come Friday. Don't think I will have enough for Saturday. Priced about same as last week, maybe down or up. Probably 55c or less.

No use of telling you I am losing money. Where do I get such values to sell for 10c. "I don't." I buy less than carload lots. I love to see your pocketbook smile, you'll smile at these buys. Look them over, remember only 10c each. Let's float along with Swan Soap, a bar, Jackson Vegetable Soup, No. 2 can, containing 20 oz.; Venice Maid Spagetti with mushrooms, 15 oz. can; Dawn Fresh Mushroom Soup, 11 oz. can; Dill Pickle Chips, full pint; Morton House Chicken Noodle Soup, 10 1/2 oz.; Henry Tomato Soup, cut beets, large 28 oz. can; green stringless beans, No. 2 can; prunes in heavy syrup, 20 oz. can; Jackson's Pork & Beans, 16 oz. can; and Golden Dawn Tomato Juice, 20 oz. can.

Here's where you go Bingo for only 10c. Just listen to this, Blue Plate Cut Sweet Potatoes in syrup 1 lb. 13 oz. That's the large can. Yes only 10c.

I am full of prunes. "Hearts Delight" packed by Richmon Chase. They are something new. Examine package. They are pre-cooked under pressure and pasturized, killing all the wrigglers. Packed in a special designed sanitary carton. Cooks in 10 minutes. Large size 52 to 53 to pound. Sell at 15c.

Plenty of good plump, meaty raisins. That's "seedless". 15 oz. package 2 for 25c.

Don't be satisfied with any coffee that doesn't satisfy. I don't think Satisfaction will but try it for harsh, bitter flavor. It will color the water, may suit your taste. 3 lbs. for $1.09. Ready split green peas. They are EZ cookers by Washburn. 2 lb. for 25c. Also have whole green and yellow split peas. A few lentils.

If you use Chili Sauce—don't think you need it, but just in case—I have it. Not made the way Mother made it, 11 oz. bottle, 2 for 39c.

I don't like the price of Shrimp and don't see how you could. 49c a can, not too large.

Cheese is much too high in price but just got to have a little around the house for mice to chew on. Might as well try Clearfield. 2 lb. box, American or Pimento, 89c.

Plenty of Durkee's Coconut, long shred, 4 oz. package 15c.

This is not such a good buy unless you need flour. Robin Hood, 5 lb. sack 49c.

I don't please everybody, no use trying to, neither does anyone else.

Just shut your eyes (only one) and you will make no miss-buys at Brenneman's.

Hope you have read down to here, if not you did not miss much. Start right in here. I am really paying you to take it home. Chopped Yellow Cling Peaches and Bartlett Pears, California fruit. "Get this straight," not in heavy syrup, slightly sweetened contents of can. 1 lb. 12 oz., that's a large can. 2 cans 29c, 6 for 85c, case of 24 for $3.24. That's for less than you could pick from tree ready canned. Free sample. Don't buy until you try.

Texas seedless grapefruit are coming in larger, price is larger. 10 for 37c. 10 weigh approximately 8 lbs.

Nucos Oleo still sliding along at same old price, 39c.

All my customers use my parking lot at any time. It's yours. All others use nickle catchers the city has placed for your convenience

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 18 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Lichenwalter In Year's Campaign

Must Run Again This Year For Office He Won In Special Election Last Fall

OTHER NEWS OF STATE ACTIVITIES

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—(INS)—Cong. Franklin H. Lichenwalter of the Eighth (Bucks-Lehigh) District faces another round of campaigning this year to hold the seat he won in a bitter political fight in September 1947. . . . The 37-year-old former speaker of the State House of Representatives expects to find the second contest comparatively smooth sailing. . . . He won the special election on the Republican ticket with an easy 17,000-vote margin only after warding off a heavy labor attack spearheaded by his CIO-endorsed opponent Philip Storch, an Allentown newspaperman. . . . The battle was fought on the Taft-Hartley Act. . . . It is not believed Storch will run again. . . . Democrats have not discussed officially a candidate for the congressional post, but some of them would like to pin their label on Norton Lichtenwalter, of Allentown, Democrat, who served the same district during the 72nd congress about 16 years ago. . . . A one-time furniture store operator, the 56-year-old Lichtenwalter obtained a job with the federal government at the end of his term. . . . He gave up the post a year ago and returned to Allentown.

Some newsmen covering the governor's office have wondered whether beards and mustaches were prerequisites for politicians aspiring to be governor. . . . Gov. Andrew G. Curtin (1861-67) started the Hirsute parade of governors which ended with Gov. Edwin S. Stuart (1907-11). . . . clean-shaven chief executives were the political fashion until Gifford Pinchot took office in 1923 for his first four-year-term. . . . The oft-called "Old Scout" sported a flowing mustache.

A trial balloon has been sent up in the governor's office concerning historical essay contests in each of Pennsylvania's 67 counties. . . . The proposed to Governor Duff pointed out that each county had some historical site which should spark the competitive interest of high school students sufficiently. . . . The governor's immediate reaction was good; it reflected his personal interest in Pennsylvania's historical shrines. . . . Nothing was discussed in the way of prizes, but some system of awards probably would emerge should the project crystallize.

The 138th regular session of the general assembly will convene January 4, 1949, at the State Capitol for what promises to be one of the most difficult post war meetings in the Commonwealth's long history. . . . complex problems of government, which has expanded over the years, have added to the legislative burden each session. . . . The next will be no exception. . . . School teachers' salaries, a sales tax and re-enactment of the emergency taxes—some dating back 12 years—will be high on the assembly agenda. . . . The veterans half-billion dollar bonus bill, in reality a constitutional amendment already approved by one assembly as required by the constitution, probably will receive its second and final legislative approval. . . . the matter then goes before the electorate. . . . to date, there have been no signs that the bonus proposal would be defeated, as it was in Vermont.

By custom, professional soldiers steer clear of politics for apparent reasons and Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, Second Army commander, is no exception. . . . But like most officers, he is alert to political trends. . . . He said universal military training, in his opinion, was necessary to the nation's welfare but reminded reporters that he "understood" 1948 was not a "good" year to win congressional approval. . . . He said the congress may be reluctant to act on the proposal because 1948 is an election year.

Cattle, Calf Output In State Declines

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—A decline of about six per cent in the number of cattle and calves on grain feed on Pennsylvania farms this January 1, compared with a year previous, was announced today by State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst following Federal-State surveys.
As of January 1, 1947 Pennsylvania farmers were feeding 90,000 cattle and calves preparatory to placing them on the market during the spring months. At that time the number was the greatest since pre-war days and well above the average of 750,000 head on feed during the five years, 1942-46.
By the first of January, 1948, the number of feeder cattle on Pennsylvania farms had dropped to 85,000.

Wheeling Planning Rat Killing Day

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 5.—(INS)—Mayor Carl G. Bachmann today held out a lure to 150 of the nation's leading figures to visit Wheeling for the city's observance on Feb. 15 of national R-day for the destruction of rats.

The mayor, nicknamed "Cheese", wrote letters to the 150 dignitaries offering them life-time honorary citizenship, the honor carrying with it the title "honorary rat-catcher". Included in the mayor's list were President Truman, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, Eddie Cantor, numerous congressmen and others.

DIRECTOR NAMED

HARRISBURG — Governor James H. Duff has approved the appointment of Russell C. Bartman, Pottstown, as executive director of the state public school building authority at a salary of $7,500.

"OIL PRODUCTION AT ALL TIME HIGH BUT HELP STILL NEEDED"

WILL YOU HAVE ENOUGH FUEL OIL AND KEROSENE to last out the winter? The answer to that depends in large part on you.

Here is the problem that must be faced by every fuel oil user. Over a million new oil burners are using 2,500,000,000 more gallons than in 1941. The over-all demand for oil products has increased by 20 billion gallons over the biggest pre-war year.

Oil is being asked to do more all the time. The petroleum industry is working around the clock to meet your demands. . . . to rush crude oil to refineries then on to you. Over 4 billion dollars are being spent to find new sources of supply, expand refinery facilities and provide faster methods of transportation. But, as in many industries, this expansion program of the Oil Industry is seriously hampered by a shortage of materials. Only time can correct this situation.

Meanwhile, every fuel oil user should do everything possible to stretch the available supply. If everyone saves . . . there will be enough for all. The greater your cooperation now—the surer you will be of an adequate supply for the rest of this winter.

4 ways you can help save fuel oil . . . and money, too!

1. Keep temperature at moderate level—not more than 68 degrees. Turn thermostat to 60 or below at night.
2. Keep doors, windows closed, shades drawn. Close off unused rooms.
3. Install storm windows and insulation to keep heat in . . . cold out.
4. Have your heating system checked to be sure you're getting the most efficient use of your fuel oil.

If everyone saves . . . there will be enough for all

Reemployment Is Still Guaranteed To U. S. Veterans

Reemployment Rights Not Abrogated By Resolution Of Congress Terminating War

The Joint Resolution passed by Congress terminating the war and the national emergency declared by the President on September 8, 1939, and May 27, 1940, does not affect the reemployment rights of former servicemen and women, nor of those now enlisting in the armed services, W.J.R. Overath, Regional Director of the Veterans Reemployment Rights Division, U. S. Department of Labor, said today.

The resolution, which became Public Law 239 after it was signed by President Truman, terminated as of July 25, 1947, the war and the national emergency proclamations issued by President Roosevelt on September 8, 1939, and May 27, 1940, insofar as they applied to specific statutes listed in the resolution. Provisions for the reemployment rights of veterans were not among the statutes listed in the resolution.

Mr. Overath emphasized, however, that under the Concurrent Resolution passed by Congress and which is now Public Law 239, persons entering the Merchant Marine after July 25, 1947, are not entitled to such re-employment rights.

U. P. Prayer Group Discusses 'The Sudan'

Members of the U. P. Prayer Group assembled Tuesday morning in Highland church with Mrs. C. C. McKibben, Third church, serving as devotional leader. Using "The Sudan" as her theme, Mrs. D. L. Ferguson, of the host congregation, gave the prayer items. "The Ninety and Nine" was offered as a vocal solo by Dr. D. L. Ferguson with Mrs. Lloyd McCormick as accompanist.

Mrs. T. C. Davis, president, appointed Mrs. George Sherman, Third church, Mrs. Roy Long, Second church, and Mrs. Frank Broadus, Highland church, as the nominating committee. Mrs. Davis also named the following as the program committee: Mrs. Albert Wilson, Third church; Mrs. Lloyd McCormick, Highland church; Mrs. Jennie Morgan, Second church; Mrs. Mary Patterson, First church; Mrs. George Rainey, Bethel church; Mrs. Howard Butler, Mt. Jackson church; Mrs. J. A. McClymonds, Oak Grove congregation, and Mrs. James Smith, Mahoning church. Following a luncheon period, Mrs. Ferguson introduced Rev. J. L. McFarland, pastor of Second Baptist church, who spoke on the subject, "The Negro, Place and Condition in America Generally." The group will gather Tuesday morning, March 2, at 10:30 o'clock in the First church.

Community Fair Attendance High

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—Nearly four million people attended 97 county and community fairs in Pennsylvania during the 1947 season, establishing a new all-time record. State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst announced today. Total attendance was reported to the Department at 3,978,960 compared with the previous high in 1939 of 3,608,355. Pennsylvania fairs in 1947 also established new records for income from concessions and for income from all sources. Concessions brought in $478,438 last year compared with the 1946 previous record of $391,462. Total income from all sources was $1,979,868 or $141,163 more than the previous record set in 1946.

Although the ancients apparently knew zinc as a separate metal, the knowledge seems to have been lost in the Middle Ages.

RELIEF ROLL INCREASE
HARRISBURG—In the final month of 1947, Pennsylvania's public assistance rolls averaged 296,765 persons, an increase of 11,468, or four per cent, over the number receiving aid a year earlier. An increase of 9,794 persons in the number receiving aid to dependent children accounted for nearly seven-eighths of the total rise.

Farmers' Index Of Prices Shows January Advance

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers' index of prices received for agricultural products advanced two points during the month ended January 15 but operation costs jumped six points in the same period, it was reported today by the state agriculture department.

The increase in operating costs cut the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar to $1.19, two cents under the previous month, according to the department.

The index of prices received, based on 1909-14 averages as 100, advanced 37 points over mid-January, 1947, to a record of 208 on January 15.

Farmers' costs for goods and services used in farm operation soared to an all-time high index of 251, representing an increase of 36 points over January, 1947, the department said. Climbing feed costs accounted for the greatest advance.

Advances in meat prices during the month were offset by reductions in the price received for poultry, eggs and dairy products.

Wholesale milk prices declined five cents to $5.50 per hundred pounds; butter dropped two cents to 84 cents a pound, eggs declined 3.6 cents to average 81.4 cents a dozen. Grains showed advances ranging from two cents a bushel for buckwheat to 16 cents a bushel for corn, while prices for hay increased 80 cents to $18.50 a ton.

LEAVING TABLE DURING DINNER

Question: Who takes the initiative in leaving the table when dinner is over? It is permissible to leave the table during a dinner party?

Answer: The hostess, seeing that everyone has finished, should rise first. The guests then follow her. The women should proceed and the men follow or remain at the table for a while if they so desire. Never leave the table at such a function unless it is absolutely necessary. In this latter case, excuse yourself to your hostess. The men, of course, should rise when a woman leaves the table. When she returns, they should rise again, the one nearest her place holding her chair for her if there is no servant present to assist her.

Question: I go with a boy from a distant town. His sister is coming to visit me. Would it be proper for me to invite her to stay at my home when she comes (I have never met her) or do you think she should stay at a hotel?

Answer: It would be very thoughtful of you to invite her to stay with you. Doubtless both she and her brother would be very appreciative.

Question: Should personal cards with "sympathy" written on them and sent to the bereaved family be acknowledged?

Answer: Indeed, yes, personal cards bearing this message should be acknowledged in the same manner as are letters of condolence—by written note. If you have a great number of these messages to acknowledge, you might, if you wish, send, instead, your own personal visiting cards with "thank you for your kind sympathy" written across the top.

Question: Are canapés eaten with fingers or forks?

Answer: It is perfectly correct to eat canapés with the fingers at an afternoon tea or a cocktail party, but knives and forks must be used when they are served at the table during a meal.

POOLS AND WARTS

Swimming pools are looked after pretty carefully. The water must be just right and must contain the proper amount of chemicals.

It is important that the swimmers be looked after too. Persons who have warts are excluded from pools.

Warts are communicable or contagious or catching. A pool would seem a pretty good place to spread them around.

A wart on the sole of the foot is called a planter wart. Some people think that planter warts are more likely to be spread around than other kinds.

If Butch wants to use the pool he should get rid of his warts first.

Hint On Etiquette

It is equally correct to say "luncheon" or "lunch". Some prefer "luncheon," but most of us refer to the meal as "lunch".

What We Know About Jesus: His Nature

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Lesson on the above topic for February 8 is John 6:35-40, 13:3-17, Colossians 1:9-20, the Memory Verse being John 13:34, "Love one another, even as I have loved you.")

What do we know about Jesus—His life while He was on earth, associating with men for a few brief years? We know little of His boyhood, just one or two incidents. Of His manhood we know more and when we think about it, we know Him well because He never changed. He was always doing good, speaking truths fearlessly, condemning the wrong, upholding the right. He was tender and compassionate, whether it was with little children, or with sinning human beings, like the rich young ruler or Mary Magdalene.

What does He say of Himself? John quotes Him. "I am the bread of life, he that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst." Those words remind us of a recent lesson where He was talking with the Samaritan woman at the well.

"But I said unto you, that ye also have seen Me, and believe not." To us it seems impossible that those working with Jesus, living with Him day after day, seeing what He did, hearing what He said, never really knew Him until after His crucifixion and resurrection.

When He was gone from them, they probably remembered what He had said, such words as: "This is the will of Him that sent Me, that every one that seeth the Son, and believeth on Him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day."

What He Did in Perea
These words Jesus spoke in Capernaum, but those He spoke in John 13, and the scene following took place in Perea, east of the Jordan river. Jesus and His disciples—all of them—were at supper on a Thursday night—the Last Supper before He was betrayed by Judas Iscariot. After supper Jesus rose, divested Himself of His outer garments and took a towel "and girded Himself."

Then the Lord poured water into a basin and, kneeling before first one and then another of His disciples, He washed their feet and dried them on the towel which was about His waist. Imagine the disciples' amazement! What must they have thought? Yet none protested until Jesus came to Simon Peter, who said, "Lord, dost Thou wash my feet?" Jesus' answer is a little confusing to us, possibly, and to Peter at the moment "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

Peter said firmly, "Thou shalt never wash my feet, and Jesus answered, 'If I wash thee not, thou such a short time Peter would deny he ever knew Him, and all would forsake Him."

Then Jesus made His lesson clear to them. "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet: ye also ought to wash one another's feet."
"For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you."
"Verily, verily I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his Lord: neither he that is sent greater than He that sent him."
"If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them."
No task should be too lowly for Christ's followers. He came to serve; so should we.

Paul Writes From Prison
In his last imprisonment in Rome, Paul wrote to the church in Colosse, once an important Greek city in the province of Asia. Paul was worried about these Colossians because there a philosophy was being taught that denied the divinity of Christ, and he was afraid the Colossians might be tempted to adopt it.

"For this cause," he writes, "we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of His will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding:

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God."

"And, having made peace through the blood of His cross, by Him to reconcile all things unto Himself: by Him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven."

The number of veterans in educational institutions and on-the-job training establishments under the G-I bill and Public Law 16 reached a record high of 1,001,687 on January 1, 1948, Veterans Administration said.

Rayburn Backs Truman Stand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas backed President Truman today in the dispute which is raging within the Democratic party over civil rights.

Rayburn, who has been mentioned in some quarters as a possible running mate for Truman, predicted that Dixie Congressmen who have been threatening to secede from the party will "cool off."

There is nothing yet to indicate that the former House speaker's admonition to his southern colleagues will bear fruit in the near future.

On the contrary, there is every expectation that their anger will soon be heightened because the Republican leadership has decided to push anti-lynching legislation through the House.

Senate Republican leaders are expected to decide soon whether to make an attempt to force the issue over an expected southern filibuster if any "civil rights" bills are called up.

General Motors Head Predicts Good Times

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 5.—Charles E. Wilson, General Motors president, believes the next three to five years will be "good ones economically."

Wilson, attending the opening of a new GM assembly plant, said he thought the general public had adopted the habit of "more conservative spending."

The motor company executive added that he was "old-fashioned enough to believe that speculation and debt bring on depressions."

Wilson predicted that, barring work stoppages or international drains, the automotive industry might exceed by 15 percent its 1947 production of 4,790,000 automobiles and trucks in 1948.

Albany, New York Has $200,000 Fire

One Fireman Is Fatally Injured, Flames Controlled After Three-Hour Battle

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—(INS)—One fireman was killed and production of the Albany Times-Union temporarily was suspended today when a four-alarm fire raged out of control for nearly three hours.

The conflagration caused damage estimated at $200,000 to four buildings adjoining the newspaper plant in the heart of the business district.

Firemen Killed
Fireman Emil J. Durand, 40, of Hook and Ladder Co. 2, was injured fatally when he slipped into the controls of a big hydraulically-operated steel ladder, which fell and crushed him.

The Times-Union suspended operations 30 minutes after the fire started, when 6,000 papers of its final edition had been printed, because of the heavy smoke.

The newspaper resumed operations about three hours later and completed its press run. Damage to the newspaper plant was minor, resulting mostly from smoke and water in the basement.

Four Buildings Gutted
The four buildings adjoining the Times-Union were virtually gutted by the blaze.

Firemen were handicapped by sub-zero weather, which caused ice to form on their equipment.

The fire occurred in a district where many of the old Dutch settlement wooden buildings still stand.

Police To War On Aliquippa Gamblers

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Feb. 5.—(INS)—Aliquippa Police Chief Trevor Jenkins was under strict orders today to close all Aliquippa gambling establishments within 10 days.

Councilman John Krotec said the order was issued because of the number of complaints received. Since mid-January, 52 persons allegedly connected with gambling have been arrested.

Banquet Honors Joseph P. Todd

Over 200 Present At The Castleton Hotel Testimonial Watch Given
By Friends

Joseph P. Todd, governor of the New Castle Moose lodge, No. 51, was the recipient of a testimonial dinner by his friends Wednesday night at The Castleton hotel that shows in what esteem the young man is held. There were 200 present, men in all walks of life. The banquet got under way at 6:30 o'clock with the singing of "America" by the group, following which Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the Welsh Congregational church, offered the invocation. The dinner consisted of roast Vermont stuffed turkey and all the trimmings that go to make up a meal of this kind, well prepared and well served by The Castleton staff.

John Powers Toastmaster
Following the dinner Attorney Walter Kielar arose and briefly introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Atty. John Powers, who as usual, did a swell job of bringing the speakers to their feet.

Remarks were made by the following: Atty. Joseph Solomon, Sheriff Frank Coen, James Thomas, fire chief, Alderman B. J. Biendi, who had a birthday yesterday and who was presented with an appropriate gift; Bernie Hanlon, city treasurer; William DeCarbo and Patrick Kearns, who handled an autobiography in a fine manner. Last to speak was His Honor, Mayor John F. Haven, of New Castle, who at the conclusion of his splendid speech presented the honored governor, Joe Todd, with a handsome gift watch, a tribute from his friends.

Fine Tribute

The following were guests at the banquet: Paul Looney of Ellwood City, governor of the Ellwood Moose club; Jackie Reider, scout for the Boston Braves; Paul "Lefty" Minner of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Charles "Lefty" Tanner of the Boston Braves, and John DiLorenzo.

Rev. Fr. John Unger, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, offered the benediction on an evening that will live long in the memory of Governor Todd, who was acclaimed by every speaker as a man of great worth and a tribute that only friends can give.

The general committee on arrangements for the banquet, and whose untiring efforts made the evening the success it was, consisted of Dave Nathanson, Mike Daino and "Dy" Jones. Todd is the youngest man ever to be elected governor of the New Castle Moose lodge, a distinct honor.

Landon Stresses Strong Military

Former Republican Candidate For President Delivers Talk At Ottawa, Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—All M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate in 1936, believes that war with Russia can be averted if the United States maintains a stronger military force than the Soviets.

The former governor of Kansas discussed the nation's foreign policy in an address yesterday before the Republican Club at Ottawa University. He declared: "In the final analysis, I don't believe war is inevitable."

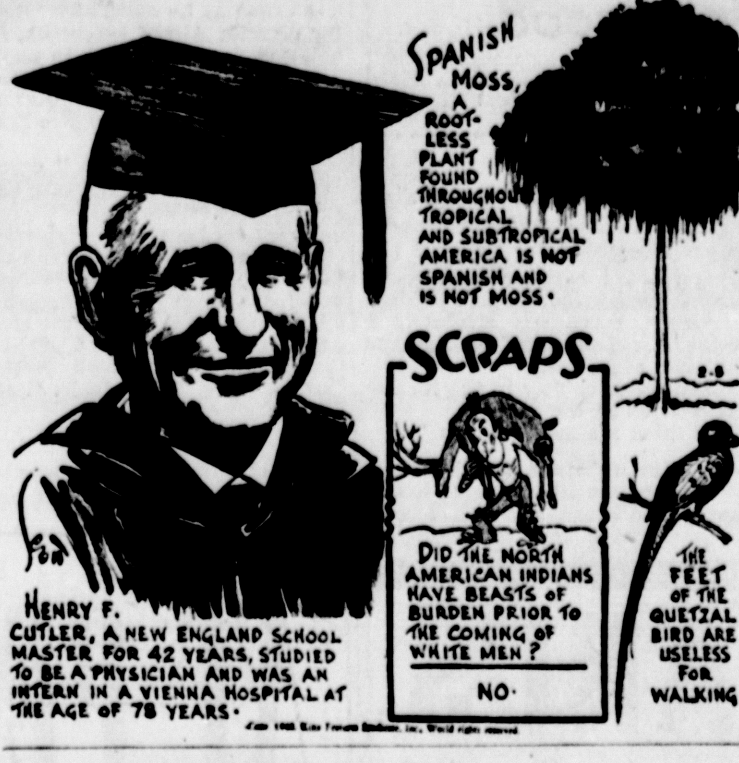

"The price we have to pay for peace is: First, keep stronger than Russia."

"Second, let her know that while we fear no one, we stand ready to make a lasting peace."

"Therefore, I strongly believe that we must proceed at once to make ourselves as nearly invulnerable as possible in this atomic age."

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

IN THE OPEN

The powder snow pulled and hauled at my boots, begrudging every foot of progress as I ploughed along through the eight-inch coating which had carpeted the highways. The roadways were clear and passable, but off the beaten track the going, afoot, was miserable. I followed the wallowing trail laid down by a winter hiker who had passed that way perhaps the day before. He too had been armed with a walking stick. The plume marks and drag of his cane were clearly recorded in the snow journal.

This fellow had been accompanied by a dog. After a mile or so they had wisely given up the struggle and had backtracked to the highway. From the point where they had turned back the snow lay unmarked before me, etched in by transient writings of the wild folk on the pages of the countryman's snow diary.

White Expanse

Off to the left lay the white expanse of a large reservoir, ice-locked by zero cold and now snowed under. An abandoned orchard, heavily bramble infested, sprawled over the long slope to the right. A mile or so ahead lay the broad, open timberland, protected by an armed guard of thorn bushes.

I struck out bravely on a course toward the woodlands, floundering along among the neglected orchard trees. Cottontail rabbits had hunted out midnight snacks all through this area. Their tracks were everywhere, with here and there a freshly-stripped seedling tree revealing where a hungry rabbit had enjoyed a little bark salad.

This old orchard is evidently the hunting grounds for all the foxes in the neighborhood. Nearly all the rabbit dining alcoves, which the big-eared bunnies had trampled out while feeding, were crisscrossed with the inquisitive trails of the prowling Reynard. The fox takes his time when hunting, and quarters the thickets thoroughly.

Sudden death had struck down one rabbit right on the trail I was following. The snow story was not too clear, but from the few bits of torn fur left as evidence, I suppose a barred owl from the woods had claimed this victim. The rabbit was probably crossing this open stretch when the shadowy death struck suddenly on silent wings.

Further along I noticed a dark splotch against the glaring whiteness which had closed in the waters of the dam. I moved in to investigate and found the pitiful remains of another rabbit. This unlucky cottontail had fallen to the hunting skill of a fox, who had caught the toothsome bunny off guard in a thicket near by.

The snow story revealed clearly how the captor had carried his quarry some 60 feet offshore and had enjoyed a leisurely meal in the moonlight. Another fox had come upwind across the snow covered ice, had circled once or twice close by the fresh kill, and then had apparently been driven off. The interloper's tracks, in a hurry, bore straight off across the dam toward the meadow mouse fields edging the far shore.

Knew Ice Would Support Him
The lucky fox had known that the ice would support him, and had chosen his dining hall out there where no hijackers could catch him unaware. I took a tentative step or two on the edge of ice, while reading the story of this midnight murder thriller, but an ominous softness underfoot drove me back to safer terrain.

A few rods more and I was in the thorn bush belt which guards the approaches to the timberland. Here the tracks of wandering squirrels began to show up and I noted where a weasel had come down across the hillside, investigating every nook and cranny along the line of march. I crossed the last barrier and stood among the big trees of the sugar "bush" which marks the lower reaches of this woodland.

Picture Far Different

Here the picture was far different from the lush days of mid-Summer when this is a mucky swale populated by a dense growth of skunk cabbage. I halted here awhile, listening for one of the big owls from the darkened timber, but had no luck. The return journey to the car developed into a painful bit of winter hiking, as muscles complained at the extra chore of pushing through the obstinate snow.

Alarm clocks rang in woodchuck dens up and down the valley one recent morning. Little black paws reached out and shut them off and the groundhogs went right back to sleep. Rumor has it that the grizzled weather-seers were tipped off last fall, when the sun spots set the weather awry. The countryman reads the daily headlines and envies these digging marmots their snug cyclone cellars.

Do Not Believe Soviet Wants War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Top administration foreign policy makers are responsibly reported to believe that the Soviet Union does not want war but aims to grab off and control as much of the world as possible.

They are said to be convinced that Russia not only does not want war but is not capable of taking up arms now.

Reports that the Soviet Union is planning a march to the Atlantic are said to be regarded as "silly" because of the vast political and military implications of such a move.

However, U. S. policy makers are said to be alarmed at Moscow's current propaganda war. But they feel that once the European recovery program goes into effect Moscow's palpable "falsehoods and misstatements" will become so ridiculous that they will have no force in the free countries of Europe.

Fifty million board feet of timber could be cut annually from the Boise National Forest, Idaho, without depleting the timber stand or disturbing the water flow.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Sweden's brunette beauty, Viveca Lindfors, is a wee bit worried that she can't get over the wanderlust. She still has three weeks to go in "The Adventures of Don Juan" at Warners, but already she's thinking of taking off for some place, probably New York City for a whirl of theatre going.

She said: "When I returned from Paris I resolved that I would not move from Hollywood for at least two years, but I have an urge to go in 'The Adventures of Don Juan' at Warners, but already she's thinking of taking off for some place, probably New York City for a whirl of theatre going."

Since she made her debut three years ago Viveca has been back to her native land, to Paris, to New York and other points north, east, south and west.

even though he wasn't in on this conversation. As soon as he completes "Rope" for director Alfred Hitchcock, he's going back to New York to play in "Harvey" for another month. Jimmy appeared in the play for seven weeks last year to give Frank Fay a rest.

"I'm going back to do it despite everything that people can say," said Jimmy earnestly.

"What do people say?" I asked. "Oh," said Jimmy, "people say I'm silly to go back to Broadway, but I can't see that viewpoint at all. You learn things on the stage. Anything that you can do like that improves your work. Besides that, it's good to get in front of a live audience."

Soviet Citizens Not To Wed Foreigners

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The supreme Soviet (parliament) of Russia ratified today a decree prohibiting marriages between Soviet citizens and foreigners.

The Russians previously have prohibited any of their citizens who married foreigners from leaving the country to live elsewhere.

It was announced at the same time that Nikolai Mikhailovich Rychko, minister of justice, has been relieved of his post because he is "unable to cope with the work."

He is succeeded by Konstantin Gorshenin.

India Dissuaded In Pakistan War

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A London telegraph dispatch from Karachi said today that British and American pressure last month dissuaded India from carrying out military expeditions into Pakistan.

The dispatch said that Anglo-American officials in New Delhi advised the Indian government against violating Pakistan territory in the conflict over the disputed Kashmir and Jammu provinces.

It added that Pakistan officials were greatly heartened by the action, but that the threat of full-scale war between the two dominions has not yet been eliminated.

River-Harbor Appropriations May Be Reduced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Opponents of the St. Lawrence seaway faced the threat that defeat of the project might bring retaliatory efforts to cut river and harbor appropriations.

The threat was made by Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., on the senate floor as foes of the project became increasingly confident that they have the votes to defeat it.

Sen. McClelland (D) Ark., whose state has flood control and Mississippi navigation projects, told a reporter:

"My answer to the threat is that I think the St. Lawrence project is going to be defeated by a senate majority."

"That same majority can take care of itself on river and harbor appropriations."

The controversy was touched off when Wiley called for "a little reciprocity" and warned opponents:

"You will have a fight on your hands for inland waterways until hell freezes over."

A high-ranking Democrat said he believed Wiley's threat of a "pocketbook attack" against local projects might serve to drive some wavering senators into supporting the seaway proposals to avert a fight in appropriations for other projects.

Wiley's threat apparently was aimed primarily at Atlantic seaboard and lower Mississippi valley senators who are opposing the St. Lawrence plan and who have sizeable river and harbor projects in their own areas.

Double Fund For Research On Oil

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The house rules committee approved legislation Wednesday authorizing the appropriation of 60 million dollars annually for synthetic oil research, double the amount already being spent.

The committee cleared the legislation to the floor for a house vote after receiving a warning that "some source is going to have to spend 10 to 15 billion dollars or this country is going to have chaos."

The warning came from Rep. Welch (R) Calif., chairman of the house public lands committee which is sponsoring the legislation introduced by Rep. Case (R) S. D.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag every time you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater fitness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthier color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

New Castle Men Find Government Weather Device

While hunting fox in the state of Michigan, two New Castle men, Robert L. Moorhouse of King avenue and William Whitehill of Neshannock avenue, found a government Radiosonde, a device used for calculating weather conditions. The men discovered high up in a tree what looked like a large red flag and climbing up, they discovered it to be a large red parachute with a balloon and radio attached to it. Carefully landing it, the hunters discovered from the literature attached to the device, that the federal government is using the instrument to broadcast back to them the temperature, pressure and moisture of the air through which it had passed. The machine was sent from Toledo, O., on January 8, 1948, at 4 p. m. with the finders to return it to the sending station.

Paddy Grimes On The Attack

Backing his opponent, Tommy Hillson, into the ropes, Paddy Grimes, (left) Dapper Dan champion, shows the aggressiveness that earned him a decision in last night's feature at the Arena.

Section 3 Race Will Be 'Fight To Finish'

Bertelli Is Quarterback

McKeever Will Employ "T" Formation With Rockets

By CHARLES EINHORN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Ed. McKeever, newly-sentenced as coach of the Chicago Rockets, says he will run the team out of the T-formation.

This is assuming that the Rockets do not run McKeever out of Chicago as they did his two predecessors, Dick Hanley and Jim Crowley, who, when last noted, were trying not only to dismember the Rockets and Chicago, but the entire subject of football as well.

In the case of McKeever, however, the man says he intends to be around for some time, and, he being a capable citizen, one might do well to take him at his word.

The red-cheeked Texas arrived on the scene of several past crimes this week and immediately informed anxious listeners that he was not subjected to third-degree treatment before agreeing to become Rocket pilot. McKeever disclosed that he knows all about the team's unattractive history, including the Rockets' startling 1947 record of one triumph in 14 tries.

"As a matter of fact," Ed. declared, "If we win half our games in 1948 I shall consider the season a success."

McKeever thus struck immediate accord with his new boss, Ed. Gann, who previously had chortled coyly that the Rockets could win 10 games this season and still expect to lose money.

Bertelli in Shape
The proposition is not without hope, however. For one thing, Angelo Bertelli, who became Rocket property early last season and never played because of a suffering knee, appears to be in good shape.

"I talked to Bertelli on the phone a couple of days ago," McKeever said. "He's playing hockey in Massachusetts."

ED McKEEVER

The proven theorem is that anybody who can play hockey in Massachusetts can jolly well play football in Chicago, so that should take care of the Rockets' passing worries, especially since McKeever, having coached Bertelli, Lujack, Tripucka and Daniewicz at Notre Dame, rates Angelo the best passer of the bunch.

A more perplexing problem, however, is that of what to use for tackles. The only trouble with the rocket tackles last year was that they were invisible to the naked eye, while the best blocking was turned in by the cleaning-and-pressing establishment which handled the Rocket uniforms.

One answer to this predicament may be Ziggy Czarowski, the morale-building Notre Damer who, besides being a fine team man and orator, earned All-American recognition as the standout Irish tackle last season.

New Castle Stakes Hopes At Tiger's Court Friday

You too can win a title in Section Three! All you need is a little determination, a basketball team and the breaks. Right now three applicants are nervously perched just outside the door of the trophy room, eager to grab the cup in one of the wackiest toga pursuits in the history of the loop.

At the start of the season it was predicted that Farrell and Aliquippa would conduct a dog-fight for the honors, with the other five teams providing the cannon-fodder most of the time. What happened? Farrell lost to Aliquippa and went into a nose-dive—losing two more in a row and all but throwing in the towel. Tuesday night the beautiful Aliquippa machine, minus one of its stars, Mike Zernich, developed an engine knock against Beaver Falls and dropped its second of the campaign.

And who is right up in there? These same Fallmen, who have been coming on like a prairie fire whipped by a tornado, and New Castle's "Blitz Kids" who ironically enough share their part of first place with the only two teams to beat them in the league!

Showdown Friday
"It can't go on forever," mutter the coaches, reaching for more aspirin, and sure enough one of the big showdowns is slated for tomorrow night when New Castle locks horns with Beaver Falls. The winner of this "mayhem with rules" will get to sneak into the throne room and take a look at the cup—but his stay won't be extended—you can bet your green stuff on that. In the meantime, idle Aliquippa, licking its Tiger wounds, will descend en masse on the Falls gym to do a scouting job—for the winner of this hair-pulling will battle the Indians for the lead—in fact New Castle has a home date with Kenny Webb's Braves next Tuesday eve. Beaver Falls goes to Sharon.

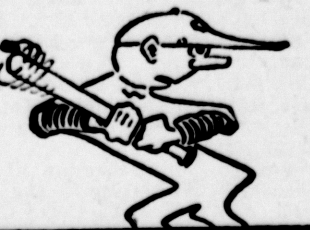

And speaking of Sharon, the Bengals of Pete Colliodi are not counting themselves out yet. They own a 4 to 3 slate and hope to embellish its tomorrow against hapless Ambridge. Farrell, with a 3 record, should get going again against Ellwood's dull-clawed Wolverines.

Will Bessemer Run Away?
Over in Section 23, Butler Henon's Indians must feel like the run-of-mine millers trying to catch Gil Dadds when they view the disappearing heels of the Bessemer Cementers. The Indians are making a dogged fight of it, waiting for the Ciccone lads to slip—but apparently they don't mean to. They notched No. 8 Tuesday against New Wilmington, and draw punchless Princeton Friday. Henon must worry about the upstart Union bunch, a quint that is climbing like a thermometer in July—and this battle should be a hum-dinger at the "Scottie" floor.

In other games tomorrow night, East Brook tangles with down-trodden Shenango and Mt. Jackson goes to New Wilmington.

Paddy Grimes Decisions Hillson In Arena

Heavy Punching Feature Of Other Bouts On Card

Inclement weather affected the ardor of fisticuffs last night and only 486 paid patrons turned out to see one of the best shows of the season. Paddy Grimes, Dapper Dan welterweight champion, polished Tommy Hillson of Youngstown in three rounds who 'subbed' for Chuck, his brother, who had his eye injured in Cleveland on Tuesday night.

Grimes started fast, employing a straight left which found its mark on Hillson's face. However, toward the latter part of the round Tommy, whom some regard as good as his brother Chuck, landed a beautiful, right to the chin that drove Grimes back, and almost into the ropes. Thereafter Paddy had respect for Hillson's right to the chin.

In the second Paddy put a straight left to the body and Hillson landed a right to the head, following which they exchanged rights and lefts to the head. Grimes jabbed, forced Hillson off balance and he made a complete turn with his body, following which Grimes landed five more jabs. He had Hillson backing at the end of the session.

Grimes landed a one-two then staggered Hillson with a punch on the chin. He drove Hillson back, who suddenly lunged forward with a right which skimmed Grimes' chin, after which Grimes put a right to the head. Another right staggered Hillson whose nose bled profusely. Grimes put another right to the jaw that hurt Hillson. He backed away at the bell.

The decision given Grimes was unanimous.

Martin Wins TKO
After knocking down Lou Quinn of Youngstown twice, once in the first and again in the second, Tex Martin won a TKO when Referee Ray Leyschok stopped the fight. They are lightweights.

The Jimmy Quinn vs Al McQueen, both of Youngstown, buntamweight fight was good with McQueen having the best of the fighting, and at the end of the third rounds he received the award.

John Murrell of Youngstown and Ed Such of Struthers at 147, put up a cavewoman fight for three rounds. It was the kind of a fight that fans liked. Murrell was a little too good for Such and earned the nod.

Jimmy O'Hara, a sharp boxing middleweight, had too much cleverness for Jimmy Marshall, and after flooring Marshall in the second round with a right to the stomach at the bell got a TKO when Marshall didn't answer the third gong.

Kid Charity, who fought here previously, was floored by Billy McNally in the second round and received a lacing in three rounds. Both are from Youngstown. McNally had too many gloves and too much aggressiveness for The Kid. They weighed 145.

Billy Underwood of Youngstown, at 126, polished off Joey Butonovich of Monaca in three rounds. The Monacan, a southpaw, fought the southpaw and stumbled around and most of his leads failed while Underwood landed often.

Clyde Henderson of Clarence Brown, 138-pounders of Youngstown, fought the seventh bout. Henderson was too clever and punched too hard for Brown, who was floored twice in the first and knocked out with a stomach blow in the third.

The Jefferson A. C. promoted the match with Tommy Leach as matchmaker. The judges were Nick Adamo and Tommy Jones, timekeeper Humbert Fazzone and the announcing was performed by Charles Walther.

VFW WIN GAME
The VFW basketball team defeated the St. Mary's Five at the Catholic Center floor, last night, 47 to 37, with Jack Badger and Procopio in starring roles, for the visitors and Hannon with 19 points for the Saints. For games with the VFW team call Ted Galanski at 8075-J-3.

BESSEMER LEGION WINS
Led by Johnson, who caged 23 points, and Kurland and Tesota who reaped 14 and 12 each, the Bessemer Legion trounced the Perry St. Gaston Post last night at the Cement City floor, 73-40. Covelli was high for the losers with 13 markers.

County League Airs '48 Plans

'Hot Stove' Session Used To Fix Franchise Amount; Discuss Other Matters

Baseball invaded the local sports scene last night as the officers and managers of the Lawrence County League held their mid-winter meeting in The Castleton hotel.

Following a delicious repast the team representatives and the officials went into a huddle over 1948 plans and at the conclusion of the parley it was agreed to set the franchise total at $200 for this season. Fifty dollars of this amount must be paid by March 20, with the balance due March 31 when the first league meeting will be held.

There is a possibility of the addition of new outfits to the 1948 lineup. Castlewood and the Wayne A.C. decided to drop out of the circuit, but representatives of West Pittsburg and Johnson Bronze and the Universal Pottery were in attendance, with the Bronze heartily in favor of coming into the fold.

Hillsville and the Ellwood Vets did not have delegates at the meeting but manager of the Ellwood Moose, Bessemer, St. Lucy's, Wampum, Galilee and Edenburg were at the session and voiced their definite intention of remaining in the league this season.

Forward Chuck Karmarkovich, of Waynesburg, was high man with 22 points.

Canadians Whip U.S. Hockey Team

Controversial "A. H. A." Team Swept Off Ice, 12-3 By Talented Canucks

By ROBERT PARKER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 5.—(INS)—America's controversial "A.H.A." team got its come-uppance by being practically swept off the ice today by Canada, 12-3, in the semi-official hockey championships at the Winter Olympic meet.

The first disconcerted and then panicky Americans, comprising the Amateur Hockey Association's team of nominees, never got their hands up against the talented Canucks, once the puck was squared away. They fought savagely and with a degree of confidence for a while. Then "gradually" yielded under the sustained pressure of the Canadian attack and wound up with a first period deficit of 3-1.

With that, the Yank defense came apart at the elbows, yielding four goals in the opening six minutes of the second period to make the score 7-1, and the rest of the match a travesty.

As a result, any chance the Americans had to win the extra-curricular Olympic hockey event went out by the rear entrance, never to return.

They have a team record of 3 wins and 2 defeats, as a result of losing to the Swiss on opening day.

John Czechs
Whereas, Canada's victory raised its status to a 5 and 0 level, joining undefeated Czechoslovakia and the still-unbeaten Swiss in a three-way tie for a title whose points are not to count in official results—by decree of the International Olympic Committee.

Meantime, the most talented Canadian of them all, Barbara Ann Scott, was virtually underwriting her option on the women's figure skating championship.

Having swept the first two figures of the "compulsory" series Tuesday when the event was halted by a sudden thaw, the petite Canadian miss resumed today where she had left off, and was well in front with a single "compulsory" figure remaining.

The event will be completed, probably tomorrow, with the staging of the free-style series.

The fourth "school" figure—the loop-change-loop—saw Great Britain's Jeanette Allwegg move into the No. 2 spot behind Barbara Ann—displacing Austria's Eva Pavlik, second in each of Tuesday's maneuvers.

The American champion, Gretchen Van Z. Merrill, Boston, remained well beaten off in seventh place at this point.

She even slipped behind New York's Yvonne Sherman in today's first figure, the latter being fifth in this special to Miss Merrill's sixth.

Pulaskis Meet Rochester Five

Tonight at the K. Pulaski floor, the K.P. "Big Five" will play the Rochester Legion team at 8:30 o'clock, following a 7:30 o'clock preliminary game between the Pulaski Cubs and New Castle Rebels.

The Rochester team is one of the strongest in the Beaver Valley. Sunday the Pulaskis will play the Youngstown Kraskus at the K.P. hall at 3 o'clock following a 2 o'clock prelim in which the Pulaski Cubs meet a strong local team.

Hockey Team To Play Bridgeville

The New Castle Arena roller-hockey team will play at Bridgeville Friday night, it was announced by Coach Don Wilson, and will play a return game at the New Castle Arena on Tuesday, February 10th with the Bridgeville team. The game here next Tuesday is a benefit game and party. The Arena team has won two and lost one so far this season.

Elks, Vandergrift Tangle Saturday

New Castle basketball fans will see one of the fastest teams in the Pittsburgh area perform here Saturday night at the Washington gym floor, when the Vandergrift Legion appears here to battle the New Castle Elks. The prelim will feature the Elks Reserves with a good opponent at 7:15 o'clock.

The Elks will try to get back on a winning streak after losing at Butler last Saturday and winning at Franklin last night. The Elks are looking ahead to the big February 22 date with the K. Pulaskis at the Arena floor, for the first of a two-game series.

Titans Defeat Juniata 74-50

Westminster Ends Eastern Swing With Victory, Wagner And McCullough Stars

(Special To The News)

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Westminster's touring Titans stopped off here enroute home after a disastrous road swing to the east, and lambasted the Juniata Indians 74 to 50 with Bruce Wagner and Allan "Ozark" McCullough the scoring stars.

It was the second win for the Titans over the hapless Indians, earlier in the year read—90 to 51. It was the ninth Westminster win against five upsets.

Westminster led at the halfway mark 34 to 23. Bruce Wagner was sensational in the first period, scoring the hoops for 11 points before the stanza ended. Ush and Rupert led the Juniata in tallying. The Titans blasted the hoops for 31 field goals.

Friday the Titans will play the Thiel Bulldogs at New Wilmington.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THERE arrived today a telegram from Merle Richards of Detroit, which, addressed to Here & There, says: "Russell Baxter made a great hit at the Fairview club here Monday night, when he won an eight-round upset over the highly favored Bobby Dawn of Detroit. He will soon fight in Chicago. Baxter actually stole the show last night and will box again at the Fairview club next Monday night." An hour after receipt of the telegram, Here & There met George Chip, former middleweight champion of the world. We remarked to George: "Baxter put up a great fight, according to Merle Richards. It appears he does better away from home than in his home town." George pondered a moment then explained: "It does a boy good to fight away from his own town. He is appearing for the first time, and is on edge to show them what he can do. He fights as though inspired. In my book, a fellow always does better away from his own town." This recalls that when Baxter fought some months ago in Chicago he defeated Jimmy Lee in a rough battle. He also "went good" at Toledo. In a consequent fight at Youngstown he did not do so good. He then boxed in The Arena and left-handed a decision over Jack Biddle.

Gil Dodds, in the finest condition he ever has been, is expected to smash his mark of 4.05, for the mile, when he runs in the Hunter event at Boston, Saturday. . . . Testimonial dinner for Joseph P. Todd, Governor of Lodge 51, L. O. O. M., was a success last night in The Castleton hotel. . . . Only two major basketball teams, New York U and Columbia, remain undefeated. . . . Concerning the weather Pat Hennessey sings: "You can have it, you can have it, it's too bad for me. . . . Women's International Bowling Congress reports it is enjoying a boom. It has a membership of 305,000, who compete in 10,000 leagues, with 75,000 teams.

To Charles Rouser, R. D. 2, Wampum, Pa.: Rest assured that Lawrence County boys with talent to make the grade will be given every opportunity to play professional ball with the Middle Atlantic league club here. The roster published was "tentative" and will be changed when try-outs are held at Flaherty field in April. Since the franchise was transferred here from Niagara Falls, it is only logical that the owners should retain as many of the 1947 players as possible. Also, trades made recently for established performers in the New York circuit, have brought the roster up to the 17-player league limit. However, many changes may be affected before play begins in May and the club owners will not overlook any promising talent in this district.

Pirate Rookies Sign Contracts

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today they had received the signed 1948 contracts of two more recruits. Shortstop Pete Castiglione and Pitcher Anthony Judge.

Castiglione, who will battle Stan Rolen for the regular shortstop job, had a big year with Indianapolis last season. A slick fielder, he batted .270 for the Pirate farm club.

Judge had no record last season as he was in service. Prior to that he had played semi-pro ball around Chicago and was recommended to the Pirates by a friend of General Manager Roy Hamey. He throws right handed and is only 21-years-old.

SCHOOLBOY ACE
Grabbed By Cubs
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Chicago Cubs, most of whom know a good pitcher when they see one and strike out accordingly, have secured the services of one such individual.
His name is George Zoeteman, the same 17-year-old youth who already has been proclaimed a left-handed Bob Feller. He is the same beardless citizen whose marriage to the Chicago White Sox last summer was subsequently annulled by Commissioner Chandler, who wanted the lad to finish high school unmolested by the sufferings of all White Sox players are heir to. Zoeteman will report to the Decatur team at its training headquarters, Selma, Ala., March 29. How long it takes him to come up to the big time will be conditioned by his showing with the Combies, but advance indications are that he will be one of the finest things to come out of Decatur since Eight.

DUKES COP 14TH; PITT BEATS TECH

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Duquesne University's hopes for a bid to one of the post-season basketball tournaments were still alive today, as the Dukes looked forward to games with Seton Hall College and Long Island University which will probably determine their fate.
Last night, the Hilltoppers had to turn on the power in the second half to beat a stubborn Lafayette College squad that had held the score even, 20-20 at halftime. A crowd of 1,931 fans at the Gardens, Pittsburgh, saw the Dukes paced by John Barry's 10 points win 48-36 for their 14th victory in 15 starts this season.

While the Dukes were hammering the Leopards, a few streets away, at the Carnegie Tech. gym, the University of Pittsburgh was winning a rough game from its inter-city rival Carnegie Tech. Scoring their 15th consecutive victory over Tech their second this year, Pitt led by Dodo Cantnera won 47-41. The win was the 50th over the Plaid by a Carlson coached Pitt team.

At Mount W. Va., the University of West Virginia, their tournament hopes all but soared revenge for an earlier setback by overwhelming the State 60-32. An record crowd of 6,800 fans saw the victors—38th straight home win—Eddie Beach, Mountaineer center, was a man with markers. West Virginia led at the half 33-20.

Penn State's No. 1 golfer, Jack Harper II, of State College, soon will be married. The bride-to-be is Mary Lawther, daughter of Basketball Coach and Mrs. John Lawther.

STOCK MARKET

TREND IS LOWER

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(INS)— A new crack-up in commodities today caused further selling of stocks, leading shares losing fractions to more than a point.

Dealings were fairly lively at intervals but declines were not as steep as yesterday when one to three points were lopped from active shares.

Grain prices tumbled the daily limit for the second straight session bringing losses from the January highs to about 38 cents a bushel in wheat and nearly 40 cents in corn. Cotton was pounded more than $2.50 a bale, bringing two-day losses to more than $2 a bale. Minor staples were slashed sharply also.

The fall in commodities reflected expectations of improved crops, both here and abroad, built up inventories and rumors of a $2 ceiling on export wheat.

CARRAUGH'S 'CHAMP' Wins World Laurels

Crowned 'Red King Of The World' At Boston Poultry Show
 Recently

"Champ," Rhode Island Red cockerel of Charles Carbaugh, Ellwood City, has won new laurels for its master. The bird was recently crowned "Red King of the World" at Boston.

Recently The News ran a picture of Mr. Carbaugh and Champ when the fowl won five first place ribbons at Madison Square Garden poultry show in New York. Today Champ holds the royal title over all Rhode Island Reds in the world.

The coronation of his royal majesty, at Boston, was part of the 100th annual Boston poultry show and the national convention of the Rhode Island Red club of America.

At the show, one of the oldest in United States, candidates from poultry shows of U. S. and Canada competed. It was then the qualities of Mr.

PERFUMES AND SPICES

When King Solomon and Marco Polo and Columbus were boys they did not have sewers and refrigerators like we have. In those days there were smells which people did not like. They did not know how to prevent or abolish these odors so they used perfumes.

They did not have very good ways to preserve food. If it could not be eaten while it was fresh, it would probably spoil. Spices were used to prevent spoilage and also to cover up the taste of spoiled food.

Perfumes and spices are not used much for these purposes nowadays. They have their uses nevertheless. Pleasant odors add to the joy of living.

Sometimes nourishing foods do not taste very good. Spices and condiments may fix them up so that they become very acceptable. Butch likes some smelly foam when he gets a haircut. He likes mustard on his sandwich too. Solomon didn't have anything on Butch.
